

Todd Bergert

Big Top

I've always been fascinated with circuses, especially as a kid. In the early years of the last century, they seemed to magically pop up in the countryside and also in a lot of fiction of the era. I tried to evoke some of that mystery and magic of the time by giving the painting a vintage look.