Kaleidoscope [kəˈlɪdəʃkōp]: a tube containing mirrors and pieces of colored glass or paper, whose reflections produce changing patterns visible through an eyehole when the tube is rotated against the light.

Welcome!

Kaleidoscope, the long-standing juried exhibition organized by the Alliance for the Visual Arts (AVA) currently featured in our Main Gallery, is a vibrant metaphor for the fall exhibition season's lineup. Each exhibition shines light to illuminate a unique angle, facet, or reflection from more than 90 local artists' perspectives. The exhibition gains its namesake from the hand-crafted kaleidoscope offered to the People's Choice honoree each year and is open to members of four vital Summit County artist organizations—the Akron Society of Artists (ASA), the Artists of Rubber City (AoRC), the Women's Art League (WAL) and the Cuyahoga Valley Art Center (CVAC).

Kaleidoscopes are objects not unlike the kinetic jewelry in Kristina Malcolm's solo exhibition TinkeRings in the 3G Gallery, which are meant to be played with by the wearer as a source of inspiration and comfort. And while the Women's Art League is one of the organizations that participates in Kaleidoscope each year, you can also see their variety of artists at work in a dedicated group member exhibition in the Transition Gallery.

In our Welcome Gallery, Meryl Engler's Babe I Thought... is a solo exhibition featuring woodcut prints that explore the devolution of a relationship using a chain-link fence as a metaphor. Continuing the theme of printmaking, A Tradition: Kent State Print Media is a group exhibition of selected alumni, faculty, and students from the Kent State University Print Media department.

I hope the rays of light projected from this array of exhibitions catch your eye!

Teresa DeMio

Teresa DeMio is a designer and artist. She is constantly asking herself what art is, what design is, and where the two intersect. She uses the tool and process of design when she creates art, but art will always be so much more than design to her. It's an expression from within, a reaching out and an attempt to be seen not as a body, a symbol of being, but as an expression of authentic being.

About the Building

Summit Artspace's historic building has been an Akron landmark since 1927 when it was commissioned by John S. and James L. Knight as the new headquarters of the Akron Beacon Journal. Standing three stories tall and boasting a whopping 55,000 square feet, the building has been an epicenter of excitement and creativity for nearly a century. On November 10, 1927, U.S. President Calvin Coolidge started the paper presses using a telegraph key in the White House. 20,000 visitors attended the three-day housewarming event that followed. The Knight brothers relocated the Beacon Journal in 1938 and the Akron Public Upcoming Events About the Building Library purchased the building in 1940. It was used as the library's main location until 1969. Small manufacturing companies used the building until 1976 when it was purchased by Summit County. Summit County has previously leased the building to the Historical Society, the MRDD board, and the Akron Work Center. The building is now leased by Summit Artspace and is enjoyed by resident artists, creative organizations, and the public. The building retains many of its original features, including a manually-operated freight elevator, John S. Knight's safe, and of course, the ornate art-deco façade.
